

Which won?

We dropped these two packaged snack foods from a height of one meter. Which won?

That's right. The one on the left.

That's a clam. And we think it's got a lot going for it.

It's kind of cute, for one thing. Has a sort of impish grin.

Doesn't come from a noisy bird, for another.

As you can see, it comes in a sturdy package.

We call it a valve. You get two, and they've even got a hinge.

And when you've eaten the clam, you can use the shell.

For an ashtray.

Try that with the competition.

Clams . . . the chewy snack in the sturdy pack.
